Black Velvet Patches Adorn Face and Shoulders of True Coquette—Dance Fashion Back to the Turban—Turban-like Coiffures—Lace Top Shoes the Very Latest—Seen in Gold Cloth With Plauen Lace Tops—Danger From Overwork—Nervous Strain Should be Relieved From Young Girls—Menu and Recipes for Sunday's Meals—The Famous Calumet, (Mich.) Recipe.

BLACK VELVET PATCHES.

Black velvet patches are more favored than are the older fashioned patches in court plaster, because they are so much more becoming to their wearers. Their soft denseness makes a sharp contrast on a peachy skin—and in these days every fashionable woman's cheek is peachy, either naturally or artificially.

The black velvet patches are round, diamond or crescent shaped and so tiny that only with the utmost difficulty are they handled while being put on. But once attached to the cheek, the chin or the brow, they stick tightly, for they are mucilage-backed. The true coquette nearly always wears a black velvet patch these days with her evening gown, and sometimes she places one of them upon her shoulders or her back, depending entirely which of those parts of her anatomy is the more beautiful.

BACK TO THE TURBAN.

Back to the turban has gone Dame Fashion. Not to the well known headcovering of Mme. de Stael and her contemporaries, but to the turban of the Orient, than which nothing is easier to make. It is merely a wide strip of tinsel net whose folds are held down with crescents in spirals so that it may be folded neatly in bandeau manner about the forehead to expose a simple and very flat head dressing.

To go with the turbanlike coiffure, consisting of a long and thick strand of unwaved hair swathed about the crown of the head and in front brought close to the forehead, there are some charming fancy hairpins in brilliant set in gold or silver. Their tips are shaped like plain ovals, horseshoes or half moons and they keep the coiffure firmly in place. They are also most effective when used on Oriental turbans in white gauze.

LACE TOP SHOES.

Lace top shoes sound alluring, don't they? They are really high shoes, but in every way like ordinary dress shoes—but the vamp is of colored satin, the top of linen lace, fitting as snugly as a gaiter.

One pair, particularly pretty, showed top and heel of cloth of gold, with top of Plauen lace. Sometimes colored satin and lace colored to match is seen, a combination that shows up well when stockings of a different shade are worn beneath. One pair, a little more extreme than the others, has merely the toe part of satin—the heel of the stocking being allowed to show through the meshes of the lace. Here indeed we come back to the sandal, since nothing could exceed this lace shoe for transparency.

DANGER FROM OVERWORK.

Entering the period of development from childhood to womanhood, the girl's natural instincts are to become a homemaker. She is interested in household affairs. But her inclination, instead of being nurtured, are thwarted. She is compelled to be interested in outside affairs. It is a common observation that a girl at this period of her life is inclined to be listless to drop behind in her school studies. We have coolly ignored the meaning of all this. We have urged her to renewed efforts. We have appealed to her through pride and through fear, and have compelled her to devote all her energies to acquiring knowledge that would fit her to become a rival of her brothers, in their own world. This change and development in the girl requires considerable of the girl's strength, and naturally influences her nervous system. This lessens the amount of energy that can be spared to outside interests. Seldom do we recognize this fact. Her time during this change might be better occupied in learning the rudiments of housekeeping and homemaking. Then, when her body has become better developed, her strength can be spared and can be well used in the development of her mind. If the nervous strain too common at this age could be relieved, we would have fewer nervous women and a healthier and happier posterity.

Tarragon Dressing—Make same as French dressing, using tarragon vinegar instead of cider vinegar, and adding a little sugar.
Spaghetti a la Mexicana—Cook one-half package of spaghetti in two quarts of boiling salted water for eight minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water. Heat one pint can of tomatoes, with two or three small pieces of green pepper. When hot turn in the spaghetti and cook 15 minutes. Just before serving stir in one-half cup of grated Goshen cheese and two tablespoons of butter.
Pineapple Dessert—Arrange pineapple in sherbet glasses and sprinkle with grated coconut and pulverized sugar.

RECIPES

Rocks—the Famous Calumet (Mich.) Recipe.
The mixing of these cakes should be done entirely with the hands.
Ingredients: 1-1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup butter, 3 eggs, 1-1/2 cups walnuts, 1 cup dates, 2-1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-1/2 teaspoon aspic, 1 spoon soda in 2 spoons warm water.

Cream together with the fingers the butter and sugar. Drop in the eggs unbeaten and knead with the sugar and butter. Have the dates and walnuts dredged in flour and add next. Then add the flour in which have been mixed the spices, a little at a time. Last of all add the soda, mixed with a little water. In summer a little more flour may be needed, in winter a little less. Drop from the end of a spoon on buttered and flour-dusted cookie pans, and let brown in a moderately hot oven. The rocks should be soft when they are taken from the oven, removed to a paper and allowed to dry before being put away. They make a goodie which will keep fresh for two or three weeks, in fact they are more delicious after they have stood two or three days.

Pineapple Bavarian Cream.
Ingredients: 1-1/2 ounces (3 heaping tablespoons) fruit, gelatin—1-1/2 pint (1 cup) boiling water, juice 1-1/2 lemon, 1 pint (2 cups) whipping cream, 1 pint (2 cups) grated pineapple, 1-1/2 pint (1 cup) sugar.
Scald the pineapple. Dissolve the gelatin with the juice of the lemon, sugar and pineapple. Fold in the whipped cream, then pour into a wet mold. Serve with grated and sweetened pineapple.

PARCEL POST MAY BANKRUPT CARRIER

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee is en route to Idaho, and probably also to Utah and Wyoming, to investigate and determine whether star route carriers are being driven into bankruptcy because of the department ruling which requires them to handle parcel post packages along with other mail at only a slightly increased compensation over what was paid before the parcel post became effective. Blakeslee's trip is the result of persistent protests made by Senator Brady, who has charged that the department is without justification in requiring carriers to perform the increased service unless they are fairly compensated.

UTAH LAKE WILL BE STOCKED WITH BASS.

Salt Lake, March 14.—Utah lake will be well stocked with bass this year, as Fred W. Chambers, state fish and game commissioner, plans to put in at least 1500 pairs of bass spawners. He now has 1100 large bass, which he will place at once in the bass hatchery known as Powell slough on Utah lake. Before the season begins this number will be greatly increased. Mr. Chambers says the fish will commence spawning early in June and that each of the 1500 pairs will produce about 17,000 eggs, nearly all of which will be preserved by the careful method with which bass watch over the eggs and care for the young fish.

EXPERTS FAVOR RESERVE BANK

Expansion of Credits and General Increase of Confidence Is Forecasted.

Chicago, March 14.—Optimistic views of the probable operation of the Federal Reserve act are expressed by financial experts gathered here for the conference of the Western Economic society.

Expansion of general commercial credits, limitation of stock speculation and a general increase of confidence in the stability of bank reserves were expressed. The only fear was that a limited period of uncertainty might occur during the readjustment of returns between the banks and their new reserve centers.

"The United States has adopted the policy already recognized and established elsewhere," George E. Roberts, director of the United States mint, said. "The system will be of advantage to every banker in the country, whether he is a member or not."

"It has provided a centralized, official control of the banking reserves of the country to be exercised through the discount rate, and supplemented by the power of note issue. It is apparent, that the more completely all reserves are brought into the system, the more complete and effective the control will be."

System for Common Good.
He declared that the system had been established for the common good and besides would be of protection and advantage to every banker whether he joined it or not, through greater security and stability.

There is nothing in the plan that will release large amounts of gold for exportation or even give it early probability," continued Mr. Roberts. "It is true that the system can be operated with less gold than is required for our very costly gold certificate currency. The truth is that we are approaching extravagance, not to say wastefulness, in our gold reserves. But the old system has worked under fixed conditions, without the direction or elasticity, or adaptability to changing conditions. The new system will be a living agency, with powers of initiative and self-help and will make it possible to issue additional currency without increasing the reserves."

AUTOMOBILE TURNS TURTLE

Spanish Fork, Utah, March 13.—Tonight while traveling at a speed of thirty miles an hour, an automobile with five occupants, two of whom are Salt Lake, suddenly swerved from the highway, plunged over an embankment and turned turtle, burying the occupants beneath the wreckage and endangering their lives. Four were more or less seriously injured.

The party included Joseph J. Cannon, manager of the National Savings & Trust company of Salt Lake, Brigham T. Cannon, associated with the same company, Mr. and Mrs. C. Biddinger and Frank Roberts of Provo.

Joseph J. Cannon alone escaped injury. Brigham T. Cannon, who was pinned under the machine after it had turned once and a half over, received a bad cut in the forehead. Mrs. Biddinger may have suffered internal injuries, while her husband received severe lacerations about the head and arms. In addition to receiving bruises of similar character, Robert has a fractured rib on the right side. Mrs. Biddinger was picked up unconscious.

STRANG IN CHARGE OF ARMY TEAM

West Point, N. Y., March 14.—Sammy Strang, former utility player of the New York Giants, is now in full charge of the Army baseball squad and is giving the men daily workouts in the gymnasium. Strang says that he has a lot of promising material under his wing and that the Army undoubtedly give a good account of itself in college baseball this spring. The first game on the Army's schedule is set for Saturday, March 28, when the Cadets will meet the Rutgers nine.

RELAY TEAM HAS THREE FAST RUNNERS

St. Denis, March 14.—Lippincott, Kelly, Lockwood and Meredith form the one mile relay team from the University of Pennsylvania, which is entered in the Missouri athletic clubs games this afternoon. Cross, the Pennsy runner also accompanied the team and will act as substitute. Captain McCurdy of the Pennsylvania track team is entered in the one mile run and Patterson, the Red and Blue sprinter is matched with Oliver Reller, the Cornell star, in a special fifty yard dash. Last year Patterson defeated Reller in the 100 yard intercollegiate at the Harvard Stadium in 14.5.

PLAYING SCHEDULE ADOPTED

Chicago, March 14.—Final adoption of a 1914 playing schedule and consummation of the transfer of the Toledo club to Cleveland was the only business of importance which confronted the owners and managers of the American association when they met here today.

The season schedule practically was completed at a previous meeting. Several alterations have been suggested, to avoid conflicts in home dates between the new Cleveland club and the Cleveland American league club. Thomas Chivington, president of the association announced the schedule probably will consist

TELEPHONE POSTAL CARD.

The postmaster general is considering the adoption of a new form of postal card, which will show not only the ordinary street address of the recipient, but his telephone number also. Upon its arrival at destination a clerk would immediately call up the telephone number and ask for the person to whom the card is addressed and read the message, after which the card would be delivered in the usual way. The card would bear a special stamp, costing 5 cents, and would have preference over the other first-class mail matter in the manner the special delivery letters do now. A reply postal card would be 10 cents. The number of words might be limited and no liability assumed by the postal authorities other than that now borne in the special delivery letter. OSTRICH FARM FOR SALT LAKE

Salt Lake, March 14.—An ostrich farm, with from thirty to forty birds, will probably be one of the attractions in Salt Lake for tourists this summer. I. T. Moon, manager of the Los Angeles ostrich farm, arrived in Salt Lake yesterday, and while here expects to make arrangements for a branch farm to take up the surplus stock of the California farm.

"Salt Lake City is the one ideal inland city in America for an ostrich farm," said Mr. Moon yesterday. "For

MESSIAH TO ASK FOR THE HEATHEN

The Redeemer Has Not Yet Asked For His Inheritance.

World-wide Dominion Premised Messiah—The Conversion of the Heathen Shortly to Be Accomplished—Messiah's Conquest of the Nations—The Arrows of Truth Will Reach Men's Hearts From the Quiver of Divine Wisdom, Justice and Love—Force to Be Employed in Putting Down All Opposition—Death to Be Destroyed.

March.—Pastor Russell's discourse today related to the fulfillment of Jesus' prayer. "Ask of Me, and I shall give Thee the heathen for Thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession."—Psalm 2:8. The Pastor declared that his text, taken from a Messianic Psalm, represents Messiah as making known to His people the Heavenly Father's decree rewarding Him for His faithfulness as our Redeemer and assuring Him of His exaltation to the Kingdom, with power to subject all things to the Father's will. This dominion has not yet come to Messiah. The Prince of Darkness still reigns.

The reason for this, the Pastor explained, is that our Redeemer has not yet asked for His inheritance. Knowing the Divine Plan, our Lord was content to wait until the due time, in harmony with another feature of that Plan which must precede the setting up of the Messianic Kingdom. That feature is the selection of the Church, the Bride of Christ.

The Pastor then showed that meantime the heathen have been suffering no loss. Born in sin, condemned to death, all of Adam's family have had experiences with sin and death, and have been going down into the tomb—the prison-house of death—there to remain until the Redeemer at His Second Advent shall call them from their graves. Then a fair trial will be given them, to determine their worthiness or unworthiness of life everlasting. It was part of the Divine purpose, he explained, that the earth should be filled with people; and hence the bringing forth of a progeny is part of the Divine will. The few years of this life, with experience of sin and death conditions, will be supplemented by the grand opportunities of the next Age.

Converting the World.

Then the Pastor contrasted God's method of dealing with the world in general with that which He adopted for the Church during this Age. In the next Age, force will be used, not merely moral suasion. Mankind will be compelled to be obedient. Numerous Scriptures were quoted to sustain this position. Among these Psalm 45.

This Psalm, the Pastor declared, is descriptive of Messiah's triumph during the Millennium Age—a picture of the conversion of the heathen. The arrows of Truth, which will go forth to the whole world, will reach the hearts of men and will smite them down. To illustrate the thought the speaker reminded his audience that when St. Peter preached that the Jews had crucified the Son of God, his hearers were "cut to the heart"—pierced with the lance of Truth.

The Pastor holds that this work of dealing with the world will begin with the generation living at the time of the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom. Ultimately it will include all that are in their graves, in the reverse order of that in which they entered. The last will come forth first—"every man in his own order," or class.

Referring to the Second Psalm, the Pastor applied it to the time of our Lord's Second Coming, when the Church will have entered into His glory as "the Bride, the Lamb's Wife," symbolically pictured as the New Jerusalem. From that Heavenly City, according to St. John, the Water of Life will flow freely, and whosoever will may partake. Meantime, the speaker declared, before the nations will be ready for that blessing, they must pass through a period of deep humiliation—"A Time of Trouble such as was not since there was a nation."

The extent to which the nations will suffer at that time will depend largely upon their own attitude, the Pastor believes. He bases his opinion upon the verse following his text. Those that accept Messiah's rule heartily will be correspondingly saved from the breaking process. Hence the exhortation, "Kiss the Son, lest He be angry, and ye perish from the way."

The Glorious Outcome.

The Pastor concluded with a brief summary of God's Plan of salvation. First He has selected The Christ—Jesus the Head, and the Church His Body—through whom He purposes to bless all the families of the earth. This blessing will consist of a knowledge of Himself, His glorious character, and also of an opportunity for life everlasting. The Scriptures, he declared, do not authorize us to claim universal salvation, but distinctly speak of some who will die the Second Death. These will have demonstrated fully that they are not in harmony with the principles of righteousness, and therefore unworthy of life everlasting.
